

Ways to deepen and extend challenge

James Nottingham www.p4c.com
www.jamesnottingham.co.uk

What are your ground rules for class discussions?

Cognitive Conflict is the key to challenge

Contact Details

www.jamesnottingham.co.uk

james@p4c.com

www.challenginglearning.com

James Nottingham

Keynote speaker, author, teacher, trainer

Tel: (+44) 01670 330035

[illegible]

Wobblers (If $A = B$)

Friend Trust

If $A = B$ then

Does $B = A$?

Trust Friend

For example ...

Wobblers (If NOT A ?)

Real See It

If A = B then

If it's NOT B = NOT A?

Can't See It Not Real?

For example ...

(P) Review

Review
Preview

Kriticos = able to make judgments

Critical Thinking

Comes from the Greek,
Kriticos

Meaning: able to make judgments

Source:
www.etymonline.com

Colliding concepts

- Truth and Opinion
- Biodegradable and Reusable
- Hero and Villain
- Happy and Content
- Dreams and Daydreams
- Decision and Order
- Child and Youth
- Lies and Make-believe
- Toys and Books
- Karma and Revenge

Good

- ✓Most learners make good progress
- ✓Children display good behaviour and attitudes
- ✓Teaching is well informed, confident, engaging and precise
- ✓Most children are suitably challenged and can succeed
- ✓Assessment is accurate, regular and consistent, & informs students how to improve

Outstanding

- ✓Most learners make well above average progress
- ✓Children behave very well and are engrossed in their work
- ✓Teaching is based on expert knowledge, is stimulating and rigorous
- ✓All learners are challenged and stretched
- ✓Assessment successfully underpins the teaching and learners know how to improve

2

2

2

Key

2
